I am writing to apply for the Software Application Developer that was listed on AccessPlus Student Job Board.

I have multiple years of experience working on the development of software. This includes three years here at Iowa State University. During this time, I have become adept at programming with object-oriented programming languages, including Java. I am also experienced in being able to develop code that follows standard coding practices.

Through the course of both high school and college, I have worked on a variety of projects giving me ability to work on a team to create, maintain, and test software while properly following standard conventions to ease the exchange of code between team members. This has created my interest to work as a team to create, maintain, and test software in a professional setting on all aspects of programs such as frontend and backend.

I believe I would be a valuable employee on your team as I am capable of working alongside others in the development of software applications. As well as, this being a great opportunity to increase my knowledge to aid me in my future goals of becoming a software developer while assisting your department to accomplish its goals.

I hope to hear from you soon.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Matthew G. Hoskins
